U. S. BEGINS EASTLAND INQUIRY

Secretary Redfield Personally Supervises Investigation

Coroner's Jury Recommends Indictments to Federal Grand Jury

CHICAGO, July 29.—Examination of witnesses in the inquiry of the United States Department of Commerce under the personal supervision of Secretary Redfield into the cause of the Eastland disaster began here today.

Witnesses, including the officer and crew of the steamer and a long list of survivors, were summoned.

While this inquiry was proceeding, United States District Attorney Cline prepared to empanel a federal grand jury to investigate the question of criminal responsibility. In the state attorney's office efforts were directed to determine the extent of the jurisdiction of the state grand jury over the persons held by the coroner's jury for grand jury action. Doubt was expressed over the jurisdiction of the state over federal officials.

GENERAL INVESTIGATION. District Attorney Cline visited the Eastland and inspected the bulk for the first time. He hinted that a number of well-known excursion steamers "might have to come off the lake."

"If any action against those responsible is ordered by the state grand jury, we will demand the right to enter proceedings against the two steamboat inspectors, and that the captain named by the coroner's jury in advance of any action which may be taken by the state's attorneys following indictments by the grand jury," he said. "These men are government officers and we must demand the prior right to deal with them. In all proceedings, however, the state will have the fullest cooperation from the government."

The council's investigating committee decided, however, to petition President Wilson to appoint an independent commission to act independently of federal authorities, and to have the government make a stability test of every excursion vessel running out of Chicago.

United States District Attorney Charles F. Cline, with five of his assistants, and J. A. Busby, chief of the bureau of investigation, went over the evidence that is to be presented to the grand jury, and selected the witnesses who will be presented. Among the first of these will be William H. Hull, general manager of the company owning the Eastland, who arrived in Chicago this

Wins Suit Against Ex-President Duffy

Superior Judge H. D. Burroughs today finally adjudicated the differences between the relatives of former President Duffy and the state board of prison directors and A. A. Busby when he gave judgment for $500 and interest on two promissory notes given by Owen and Philip Duffy Jr. to Mrs. Belle W. Busby, January 21 last.

The notes were given in the justice court for money loaned as well as an overcoat, a dress suit and a suitcase. The overcoat was stolen from Colonel Duffy at San Quentin by the late Herbert Kopsch, the "perfumed burglar," while the colonel was attending a meeting of his board two years ago.

Kidnaper Dean Sent to Idaho Penitentiary

BOISE, Idaho, July 29.—Leon Dean, a sneaky kidnaper who kidnaped Ernest A. Enger and held him prisoner in the mountains in eastern Idaho for six days, demanding payment of a $6000 ransom, was put in the Idaho penitentiary early today to serve an indefinite sentence of from one to ten years.

LEELANAW LOSS SUBJECT OF NEW NOTE TO GERMANY

Chancellor and Kaiser Confer; Gerard Is Summoned

BRITISH LION IS DAMAGED

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 29, by wireless to Sayville.—The Overseas News Agency says today:

"The Athens correspondent of the Vossische Zeitung reports that the British superdreadnaught Lion has arrived in the harbor of Mudros, on Lemnos Island. The Aquitania and the Mauretania, being used as troop transports, also are in this harbor.

"The Lion," the correspondent says, "received serious injuries in a naval engagement last January off the Dogger Bank in the North Sea. She apparently is not considered a first-class ship, and has therefore been sent to join the Dardanelles fleet. The British battleship Agamemnon, badly damaged, also is lying in Mudros harbor."

Gerard in Conference

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, 12 noon July 29, via London, 4 p. m.—Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Imperial Chancellor, who returned to the capital yesterday from a visit to the army headquarters in the field where he talked with Emperor William, sent for James W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, today. The conference between the American ambassador and the German chancellor is expected to have an important bearing on the future development in the relations between Germany and the United States.

Lansing Drafts Note

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—State Department officials today were drafting a note to Germany asking payment for loss of the American steamer Leelanaw, torpedoed by a German submarine off the Orkney Islands last Sunday on the ground of violation of the Prussian-American treaty of 1828.

Preparation of the document followed the receipt of a report from American Consul Dennison at Dundee, Scotland, which showed that the Leelanaw's captain attempted to escape, but submitted to visit and search after warning shots had been fired. Officials held that the right to escape is conceded by international law, only repeated attempts to evade capture or forcible resistance being regarded as affecting the case.

Any doubts in the minds of officials that the treaty of 1828 should be violated was removed by unofficial advice which said that the German submarine commander was unwilling to jettison the Leelanaw's cargo and to allow her to proceed.

RUSSIANS CLAIM A VICTORY

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 29, 11:55 a. m.—Except from Sokal, Galicia, where the Russians claim by a counter-offensive to have thrown back the Austro-Hungarians across the Dniester river, little definite news reached London today from the eastern battle front. To the east of the Narva river the extent of the German advance from Riga is marked by the capture of the village of Gogorowo, which lies only sixty miles from the river.

The exact status of the operations on the eastern front is proving a puzzle to students of the Warsaw campaign, even Petrograd being uncertain whether the vast operations between the Bug and the Vistula rivers mark the crisis of the battle or only a pause to allow one side or the other to draw breath or to rearrange its forces.

Along the western front comparative quiet prevails, with Berlin claiming and Paris admitting the recapture of trenches in the Souchez sector.

Rome explains the lull along the Isonzo river front on the ground that the Italians are engaged in organizing and securing the positions which they won on the Carso plateau, but Vienna claims the lack of activity means the termination of the Italian attack after a successful Austro-Hungarian defense along the whole chosen battle line.

NEW SUBMARINE RAIDS.

German submarine warfare, which raged around the Orkney Islands at the end of last week, presumably against trade with the only open Russian port, Archangel, has been transferred to the northeast coast of Suffolk, where several neutral as well as British ships have fallen victims to the undersea commerce raiders.

The situation in the near east remains apparently unchanged so far as any departure from neutrality is concerned, but the entente allies already are showing considerable irritation over Bulgaria's successful negotiations with Turkey and they soon may transfer their displeasure to

WESTPHAL BANISHED FOR LIFE

Alameda Judge Orders Capitalist's Heir From City

Must Serve Term in Jail If He Ever Dare Return

Punishment from Alameda for the remainder of his life was the sentence meted out to Fred Westphal this morning by Police Judge L. R. Weinmann. Westphal pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace preferred by Dr. H. A. Miller, Judge Weinmann gave the defendant a term of three months in the county jail, withholding commitment on the order that Westphal remain away from Alameda the rest of his days. If he sets foot on Alameda soil and is apprehended by the police he will be taken into custody and made to serve his sentence.

Westphal resided at 744 Santa Clara avenue. He is the son of the late J. C. Westphal, pioneer miller, and when his father passed away he obtained a large sum of money. He was arrested in Oakland about nine months ago on a charge of fast driving and was given twenty days in the Oakland city jail. A short time later he was arrested in Alameda on a charge of being intoxicated, having endeavored to burn down his home. He was fined a small sum. Next he was arrested for disturbing the peace of his mother-in-law and placed on six months' probation. He was not heard from during this period. Following the lapse of his probation, he was arrested here on the complaint of Dr. Miller, who claimed that he and two women companions engaged in an orgy at the Santa Clara-avenue home.

Westphal has been made a defendant in a divorce case and has also been sued for back wages by a former employe in the Sacramento valley, his automobile being attached in this case.

Westphal, who is 40 years of age, declared some time ago while in the city prison here that his money had caused him to get into trouble. He said that he had been practically idle since receiving the inheritance and that in finding ways to amuse himself he had drifted into various cases which caused his arrest.

Westphal while driving his automobile in Oakland, ran the machine into the Hanrahan saloon at Twelfth street and Broadway. He was given the twenty-day term, which he served.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ENTERS. But a short time following that episode the Alameda fire department was called to a house here. It was found that Westphal had poured oil over the carpets and stacked piles of paper around the room. When the firemen and police arrived he resisted their efforts to get into the house, but was finally taken into custody. He was charged with arson, but this was later changed to intoxication. He was fined a small sum on this count.

Another time, it is claimed, Westphal went to the home of his mother-in-law on Taylor avenue in this city and created such a disturbance that the police were summoned. He was arrested and later, placed on six months' probation.

This period came to a close a few days ago and then Westphal was taken into custody again. He was awaiting bail he was served with divorce papers, his wife claiming cruelty and declaring the last straw was his orgy with the women in her home.

Three Beaten to Death With Hammer

By Associated Press.

TEMPLE, Texas, July 23.—Three children of W. R. Grimes, a farmer near here, were beaten to death with a hammer last night. Grimes and his wife also were beaten into unconsciousness and Mrs. Grimes is not expected to live.

When Grimes recovered consciousness he dressed his three remaining living children, sending them to a neighbor half a mile away for help. Bloodhounds have been sent to the Grimes home.

Two of the dead children were twins, babies and the third a 7-year-old boy.

ANGRY HUSBAND THREATENS PRISONER

ALAMEDA, July 29.—"Let me get at him!" shouted J. R. Molera today, in Justice Johnson's court, as he lunged towards F. F. Terramorse Jr., who, according to the testimony of George Sakaki, Japanese cook in the Molera home, had been served breakfast for five consecutive mornings in Mrs. Molera's room during the absence from the city of the husband. Terramorse and Mrs. Molera were arrested in New York, following their fight through this country. The woman, known as Fay Carranza, the "Spanish Nightingale," is charged with contributing to the dependency

"Well, I'll die like a man anyhow. There is no justice here; I am confident, however, that I will get it in the next world. I know that the truth will come out."---Chas. Becker.

CHARLES BECKER, who will be tomorrow in the electric chair, and his wife, who has broken down after her long fight for the former police lieutenant's life.

WIFE BEGS BECKER'S LIFE

By Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 29.—Mrs. Charles Becker arrived here today to make a final plea to Governor Whitman for her husband's life. She was accompanied by John B. Johnston, of Becker's counsel. Mrs. Becker did not learn until after her arrival of the governor's departure from the city. She said her plans were uncertain.

Governor Whitman, over the long distance telephone, at 3 o'clock agreed to meet Mrs. Becker and John B. Johnston of Becker's counsel at a hotel in Poughkeepsie at 6 o'clock this evening. Mrs. Becker and Mr. Johnston agreed to leave here on the 3:37 o'clock train.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Final preparations for the execution at Sing Sing prison early tomorrow morning of Charles Becker, formerly a police lieutenant, for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, were begun at the prison today, following the announcement of Justice Ford's decision denying Becker a third trial. The hour of the execution is set for 3:45 a. m. tomorrow.

There was speculation today as to whether Becker's counsel would attempt to make any further appeal in his behalf which might act as a stay of his execution or whether any such appeal were possible. One of Becker's attorneys said there would be a meeting of the prisoner's counsel early today to consider Justice Ford's decision and decide whether they could do anything further to save Becker from the chair.

GOVERNOR'S CASE.

Justice Ford had declared that the case was now entirely in the hands of Governor Whitman, and that Clemency, if any were granted, must come from him. The governor had expressed his approval of the denial of a new trial and had said that if he had any doubt about Becker's guilt he would pardon him in a minute.

To Father Cassin, the prison chaplain, Becker said:

"There is no justice here. I am confident, however, that I will get it in the next world. I know that the truth will come out."

JEWELS OF MURDERED MAN GONE

Mysterious Angle Crops Up in Gallur Case

Police Instigate Hunt for Fortune in Missing Gems

The mysterious disappearance of jewels valued at over $4000 from the body of A. Hotchkiss, the aged Southern Pacific engineer and money lender, who was murdered by Damascus G. Gallur, a well-known musician, in Gallur's home, 2229 Ransom street, is being investigated by the police.

The body was stripped of all valuables with the exception of $3, according to the coroner when it came into his possession, even the watch and chain, scarfpin and rings worn by Hotchkiss having been taken.

Gallur was arraigned before Police Judge George Samuels today on a charge of murder. The case was continued to be set for preliminary examination.

When Gallur was arraigned on the murder charge today, he was represented by Attorney Francis St. James Fox. The date for the preliminary examination was set for August 11. Attorney Fox announced that Attorney Marcus D. Samuels of San Francisco, would be associated with him in defending Gallur. The hearing will be before Judge Samuels in Department No. 2.

CONVINCED OF MURDER PLAN. Members of Gallur's family are convinced that he planned to murder them after killing Hotchkiss, and that he was going to place the bodies in trunks and boxes in the house and ship them away. They believed that he was crazed by his financial troubles. The police have ascertained that Gallur held a telephone conversation with Hotchkiss on Tuesday and told him he was ready to take up the loan, as he was able to use the diamonds held by Hotchkiss as security to make another loan at a lower rate of interest. It has also been ascertained that after murdering Hotchkiss, Gallur got into communication with an expressman and told him he had some work for him. He also purchased 40 feet of rope to rope the trunks and boxes, and the police believe that his explanation for this was going to hang the body of Hotchkiss on a telegraph pole as an example to money lenders, was made up after his arrest.

The police are completely mystified over the disappearance of the valuables belonging to Hotchkiss. Hotchkiss has been known among his fellow workers on the Southern Pacific as a money lender. He always carried ready money which he was prepared to lend at high rates of interest on good security, usually diamonds. He invariably wore diamond rings and scarfpins and frequently carried jewelry in a small bag in his pocket. It is known that Hotchkiss went to Gallur home Tuesday apparently prepared to surrender the jewels he held as security on a loan of $992, on which he was charging Gallur interest at 5 per cent a day. Hotchkiss was 58 years of age. These diamonds were valued at $2000. He also had money, bills and a gold watch and chain.

FIND NO VALUABLES.

The police were notified of the murder by John Gallur, the son of the alleged murderer, who had first discovered the body. John Gallur and Hans Hansen, a young man who is engaged to the step-daughter, Miss Emma Gallur, were the first to see the body of Hotchkiss in the clothes closet at the Gallur home. They immediately notified the police. The police then occupied the house until the arrival of the coroner. They did not disturb the body during that time and do not know whether the jewelry was on it or not. The coroner's man said that there were no valuables on the body when it was received at the house.

Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen questioned Gallur carefully in the city jail today. Gallur denied that he knew anything concerning the jewelry. He said he was hard up for money, but that it had not occurred to him to disturb the body or search Hotchkiss for money. He declared that he had not taken the money or jewels and hidden them and the police are inclined to believe him.

It is thought that the murder occurred about 3:15 Tuesday afternoon. The body was not found until after 1 o'clock. During that time Gallur was away from the house for a considerable time. The police are making a search of the city for the missing jewelry.

BECKER WAITS FOR HIS FINAL HOUR

Doomed Man, in Death Cell, Denies Justice Exists on Earth.

had been received at Albany that some New York gunmen had arrived there.

Less than an hour after Becker in his cell at Ossining had received word that Supreme Court Justice Ford had denied his appeal from a third trial, the condemned man threw himself on his cot. He lay with his face to the wall and the guard said he did not move all night.

Becker arose at 7 o'clock. After breakfast he was taken from his cell. When he returned he found that all of his clothing, personal belongings, and even the few furnishings of the cell, had been removed. On a new cot lay a thin black suit, white shirt, with soft collar and a black tie. Black stockings and soft felt slippers were also provided. The left leg of the trousers was not cut. When Becker donned the clothes, as the sitting is done just before a condemned man is led to the execution chamber.

PRISON KEEPS VIGIL.
Father Cassin, the prison chaplain and Becker's spiritual adviser, will be with the condemned man today and tonight, and will accompany Becker to the death chamber.

Thomas Mott Osborne, warden of Sing Sing, announced that he will leave the prison late today. The warden is opposed to capital punishment and has never been at the prison during an execution. Deputy Warden Johnson will have charge of the execution of Becker and Samuel Haynes, a negro, who will probably be electrocuted a few minutes before Becker.

Governor Whitman telegraphed Mrs. Becker, in reply to a request for an interview, that he would see her tonight after his return from reviewing the state troops at Camp Whitman, twenty miles from the Sing Sing death house. He added nothing to his statement of last night, when he said that he was giving a new trial for Becker Justice Ford had taken the only step possible under the circumstances and in no quarter it is believed that a plea for mercy would change the executive's attitude.

WHAT BECKER OFFERED.
The governor is positive regarding Becker's guilt. The fact which became public after Justice Ford handed down his decision, that Becker had offered to plead guilty to second degree murder, convinced the governor of his belief, however to buy him up with renewed hope in executing the former lieutenant.

As a result of worry over the Becker case, the governor is said to be nearly exhausted. He has followed every move as closely as any of the attorneys and his appearance shows plainly the effects of his hours of study and worry.

TOLD OF DOOM, WIFE COLLAPSES

OSSENING, July 29.—Mrs. Becker, whose nerves have never felted during the three years' fight to save her husband, collapsed today when told that the last hope was gone. She spent a short time visiting her husband in the death house last night, and to the very last moment to buy him up with renewed hope that Justice Ford would order a rehearing of his case.

Becker was being prepared for death today. Deputy wardens gave him his last shower bath. He was stripped of his civilian clothes and garbed in the plain black suit such as all prisoners wear who are taken to the chair. Becker ate a hearty breakfast this morning and apparently took little note of the preparations for his execution going on about him. The death cell was stripped of all his belongings except a picture of his wife.

The prison barber was summoned to Becker's cell during the morning and clipped his hair. A round spot was then shaved on the crown of his head where the metal electrode will fit. The convicted police officer sat and coolly awaited the work in preparation for his execution was carried out.

Friends of Becker are confident he will go to his death unflinchingly.

Some believe he may even protest his innocence from the chair, and there were rumors that he will leave a statement to be made public after his death.

Mrs. Becker today said she would not appeal to Governor Whitman for executive clemency, as she knows this would be hopeless.

It was Whitman who, as state's attorney in New York, gave the Becker case to the gunmen who have previously paid the death penalty for the murder of Rosen-

GRAND JURY MAY INDICT SIX MEN FOR EASTLAND TRAGEDY

CAPTAIN H. PEDERSON (SEATED) OF THE EASTLAND AND MEMBERS OF CREW. PEDERSON IS ONE OF SEVERAL HELD TO BLAME FOR CHICAGO TRAGEDY.

Inquiry Started to Fix the Responsibility

morning in response to a subpoena. Indictments based upon six sections of the federal laws are planned. It was given out after the conference.

GRAND JURY RECONVENED.
The county grand jury, which was adjourned yesterday following a conference between Secretary Redfield and State's Attorney Hoyne, was reconvened today and the report of the coroner's jury recommending that six persons be held, was laid before it.

A charge of manslaughter is recommended by the coroners against William H. Hull, general manager of the company owning the Eastland; Harry Pederson, captain of the Eastland; Joseph N. Erickson, chief engineer of the Eastland; Walter K. Greenbaum, general manager of the Indiana Transportation company, which chartered the Eastland; Robert Reid and Charles Eckloff, steamboat inspectors at Grand Haven, Mich. The jury declared that the Eastland was "both improperly constructed for the service employed and improperly loaded, operated and maintained and that the parties named are responsible." The report continues:

"We recommend to the state's attorney and the grand jury that an investigation be made of the corporation or individuals responsible for the management of this boat with a view to discovering if other members of the corporation, or other individuals were responsible for acts contributing to this disaster.

PREVIOUS OWNERS ALSO.
"We further recommend that the state's attorney and the grand jury investigate carefully the circumstances of the construction of this boat to ascertain if there can be found legal defects by which those responsible for its defects in construction can be held accountable.

"We further recommend that the state's attorney investigate the details of purchase and sale of the different common carriers which have owned the Eastland with a view to determining if possible whether knowledge of the instability of this boat and the hazards attendant thereon have been known to the sellers and have not been disclosed to the purchasers, and whether the various purchasers of this boat have discharged their duties as common carriers in investigating the stability and freedom from hazards of the Eastland.

"It is our opinion that the federal government's system of permitting the construction of vessels for use by common carriers is unscientific and a menace to public safety. There is not now nor has there ever been an inspection service maintained by the federal government for the purpose of determining the stability of boats offered for passenger service. It is the judgment of this jury that the present method of determining the passenger carrying capacity of vessels is not founded on any proper basis.

"In recommending that inspectors Reed and Eckloff be held to the grand jury, we recognized the possibility that the courts of Illinois might not have jurisdiction over them. Should the courts of Illinois not have jurisdiction, we recommend to the Department of Justice of the United States that it undertake to mete out justice to these parties."

JURISDICTION DOUBTED.
Assistant State Attorney Fisher said today he believed indictments on charges of manslaughter, conspiracy or criminal carelessness could be sustained against four of the six persons ordered held by the coroner's jury. He is investigating the jurisdiction of the grand jury over the federal inspectors ordered held by the coroner's jury. Coroner Hoffman issued mittimus for the six persons held by the jury.

The plan to raise the Eastland by the use of derricks was abandoned today because of the immense weight of the water within the hull. Work

Says Husband Deeded Property Before Suit

Demanding separate maintenance and alleging that her husband, Dr. John A. Carmichael, a dentist, operating a chain of offices in Oakland and other cities, had deeded away his property to his partner and sister to avoid payment, Mrs. John A. Carmichael of Oakland filed suit for $30 a month in the San Francisco courts today. Judge Shortall heard the case. She alleged that the dentist, who lives here, deeded his property to Dr. G. W. Free and to his sister. Carmichael testified that he had no property, worked for wages and could not afford to pay the sum demanded.

Elder Fraud Charge Now Before U. S. Jury

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, July 28.—The government suit against Charles J. Elder, former president, and ten other former officials and employees of the Los Angeles Investment Company, charged with conspiring to use the mails in a scheme to defraud, was given to the jury at noon today. The defendants, who were officers in a $5,000,000 company, have been on trial since May 25.

BRITISH PATROL BOAT DETAINS S. S. NOORDAM

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 29.—Passengers arriving here today on the liner Noordam, from Rotterdam, said the steamer was detained 23 hours off Deal by a British patrol boat, while three Austrian passengers were taken ashore and questioned. The three were later returned to the steamer. Among the passengers was M. A. W. Tjarda and Van Starckenborgh Stachouwer, attaché of the Dutch legation at Washington.

NOKIN FOR DEAD BOY?

MERELY NO. 396 NOW
TORN CLOTHES, SHROUD

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 29.—In the morgue of the Eastland dead there still lies the body of "No. 396," an eight-year-old boy, unclaimed and unidentified. Except for a hole in the knee of his trousers, there is no distinguishing mark about his apparel, and none of the thousands of searchers for the missing could place him, so the public has claimed him for its kin.

A mound of flowers is rising about the little body, and to each wreath is pinned a kindly message. "For 396, a poor kid," reads one. "For the little boy," from O. J. L., says another. "For No. 396—the poor little kid," is a third. Another voices a spirit of resentment against those responsible for the disaster. If nobody misses a little boy with a hole in the knee of his trousers, No. 396 is sure to have his trip to the burial ground attended by mourners. More than a dozen have volunteered to bury the lad, and the boy's account have offered to give him a military funeral.

Coroner Hoffman says the body will be preserved as long as possible—possibly another week—for identification.

It is believed that No. 396 did not belong to the families of any of the Western Electric Company employees, whose picnic was terminated Saturday by the capsizing of the Eastland. Among the thousands who have viewed the little body, two or three have claimed to recognize it, but later inquiries revealed that the identifications were wrongly made.

Tea Taster Tastes Opinion of Court

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Contention that his former sister-in-law, Attorney Philathea Michelson, had a "prosecution mania" was scotched today in Judge Deasy's court, when Charles Battelle, an Oakland tea taster, who had been accused of non-support, and in turn accused the woman attorney of insanity, lost his case.

"Miss Michelson has tried cases in my court and is a better attorney than the average man," said the judge. Battelle declared that he would get Presiding Judge Trout to sign a commitment.

Battelle and his wife were divorced some time ago after a sensational trial. He has been charged with non-support on a number of occasions.

'Bonnie Scotland' Tour In Travelogue Tonight

Rustic and Classic Charms Shown by Camera Artfully Described

Tribune tourists are to be whirled over the Land o' Burns tonight in the picturesque and fascinating travelogue by Robertson, "Bonnie Scotland," at the Macdonough Theater.

Heather-covered highlands, the noted Trossachs, the famous old battlefields and rugged castles, which have had their part in Scotland's bloody wars, are to pass in review in the beautifully colored slides making up this travelogue, one of the last in The Tribune's series.

Countless deeds of heroism come to mind at the mere mention of Scotland. The thrilling romances of Sir Walter Scott, incomparable tales of chivalry, have left their impression; the poems of Robert Burns lend a color and an atmosphere to the charming old land; Bruce and Wallace, both men of deed and action, are inseparably connected with the history of Scotland, as is also Mary, Queen of Scots, one of the most fascinating and mysterious of history's characters.

Pictorially, Mr. Robertson says, Scotland is one of his most perfect offerings. The picturesque country lent itself well to the camera. There is beautiful, artistic and the quaint, for it was all there waiting to be pictured. The Trossachs, Lochs Lomond and Katrine, the castles of Stirling, Balmoral and Holyrood, and the wonderful ruins of Melrose Abbey are all famed for natural beauty and artistic environment, and the little out-of-the-way places, the homes of peasants, the pretty little villages, the less known, are just as picturesque and charming.

A motion picture in the Scottish travelogue will be of special interest to automobilists, for it will show an American in an American-made car climbing Ben Nevis mountains.

The trip was the first ever over the mountain in an auto and was made on a wager. The resourceful driver used dynamite to blast a passage for his machine in one place, and shoveled a tunnel through a snowbank in another. Other motion pictures will give glimpses of Scottish soldiers in typical Scottish kilts, or peasants in their native work and pastimes.

With a travelogue tonight just six more travelogues remain in Mr. Robertson's series at the Macdonough. Friday evening comes the Grand Canyon of Arizona and the Yellowstone National Park.

Admittance to any of the travelogues is 10 or 25 cents with the Tribune coupon, the latter amount being good for a reserved seat on the first floor. Admittance without the coupon is 50 cents.

Oura Resigns From Japanese Cabinet

TOKIO, July 29.—Viscount Kanetaka Oura, the Japanese minister of justice, suddenly resigned his portfolio today. The minister's action, following as it does the investigation instituted by the minister of justice into bribery charges growing out of the parliamentary election of last March, caused a sensation throughout Japan.

The case involves several members and ex-members of the Imperial Diet. Count Shigenbu Oura, the premier, reported the situation to Emperor Yoshihito, who sanctioned the resignation of Viscount Oura.

The investigation into the charges of bribery growing out of the March elections resulted in the arrest yesterday of K. Hayashida, who had been chief secretary of the lower house for twenty years. The arrest of Hayashida is said to be connected with the charge against Viscount Oura, who is alleged to have received a present of $500 from a candidate for membership in the house.

New Steamer Service to Be Inaugurated

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 29.—Agents of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company and of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company announced today that a fortnightly service between New York and the west coast of South America will be inaugurated by way of the Panama canal as soon as the steamers intended for that service are released by the British government from transport service.

The fleet will consist of 15,000-ton steamers with accommodations for 1000 passengers. The agents said they made this announcement on account of the recent conference at Washington regarding the inauguration of a government-owned line through the Panama canal to the west coast of South America.

WOULD PENALIZE WEED ORDINANCE

Meiose Improvement Club Seeks Stronger Statute for Sanitary Violation.

OAKLAND, July 28.—Operating with the police in the community clean-up work, the Meiose improvement club seeks to have introduced into the weed and debris removal ordinance a clause by which a penalty may be imposed on those who do not comply. The present ordinance, according to a report made at the last meeting of the club, does not sufficiently enforce and is disregarded with impunity by many of the property owners in this district. Although the police may threaten prosecution the law does not permit of the imposing of a penalty for untidy side walks and yards, according to the club members.

A committee will appear before the city council with the request that a stronger ordinance be drafted. "Many householders and property owners in this community, the appearance of which is greatly marred by unkempt sidewalks and yards will have to be brought to realize that the clean-up ordinance means business and that a stiff penalty will be imposed if they do not carry out police instructions," remarked W. A. Smith, secretary of the Meiose improvement club.

Arrangements for the annual picnic of the Meiose club are under way and a date will be set at the next meeting in August. L. A. Barker, Lester Ziehn, W. A. Smith and William Rouse were appointed a picnic committee. It is customary for between 150 and 200 of the club men and their families and friends to attend this outing which will take place probably in the latter part of August or early in September.

EAGLES TO INITIATE.
NAPA, July 28.—The Napa Aerie of Eagles is preparing to hold an initiation when a large number of new members will be admitted. Arrangements for the event are in the hands of a committee of officers and members of the aerie.

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or Less.

A Physician's Advice.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to put a few pounds on and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Bargo tablet with every meal. Bargo is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Bargo is sold by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution: While Bargo has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.—Advertisement.

BAY TOUR OF CONGRESSMEN REDOUNDS TO PROFIT OF CITY

U. S. COMMITTEE FAVORS HARBOR AID

Out on the estuary and bay, the members of the rivers and harbors committee of the House of Representatives gleaned an understanding of Oakland's waterfront possibilities yesterday afternoon that is expected to stand them in good stead when next this city's needs are before Congress. This morning the committee members were turned over to San Francisco at the conclusion of a two-day visit with local possibilities were brought vividly to their attention.

The representatives of the Oakland Commercial Club, who had in charge the reception of the distinguished guests, were kept busy throughout the course of a cutter tour of the front answering the questions of the congressmen. The most hopeful sign given by the visitors of what they would do for this district when it was proposed next to their consideration was the rapidity with which they fired questions at their hosts about all phases of the waterfront problems. The members of the committee will be in San Francisco until the end of the week. They proceed then to Redwood City and to San Jose, where water access projects under consideration are to be shown to them.

The remainder of the southern trip takes them as far as the exposition at San Diego, which they will visit incidentally to their observation of San Diego harbor works. Returning they will go to Santa Rosa and Eureka, and from there on will be the guests of Oregon and Washington until they start eastward again.

THE POINTS OF VIEW.

"The trip about the bay has made more concrete the impression I already had of the largeness of your waterfront works," said Congressman Stephen M. Sparkman of Florida, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, upon returning from the bay tour. "We depend largely upon the engineers' reports, of course, but we have been given something else today, our own view of things, upon which to place dependence. "You certainly have taken full advantage of your opportunities," said Congressman George E. Burgess of Texas. "The government, it seems to me, has not acted amiss in rendering you what assistance it has rendered."

An impression of the bay has been gained as the result of a previous tour of your waterfront," said Congressman William E. Humphrey of Washington, one of the coast's chief allies in Congress. "Just it deserves all the aid we can give it. I have told them, especially of the money you have yourselves put into the waterfront as the best possible earnest of your own faith in its future commercial importance. They have had opportunity today to prove for themselves that my words were not exaggerated."

Congressman Charles A. Kennedy of Iowa and John H. Small of North Carolina were similarly impressed with the trip. Congressman Small took up a position in the bow of the General McDowell, on which the journey was made, at the start of the voyage. With a map of the harbor spread out before him on the rail and Oakland men flanking him ready with explanations, he made a detailed study of the harbor works until the vessel put about for the return trip. His attitude was typical of that maintained by all the members of the committee. Each found attached to himself, immediately the McDowell cast off, a group of Oakland men conversant with harbor data and computations.

IDEAS COINCIDE.
Other members of the rivers and harbors committee expressed their interest in the harbor developments. Those included Congressman Charles G. Edwards of Georgia, Congressman Thomas Gallagher of Illinois, Congressman Robert M. Switzer of Ohio, Congressman Allen T. Treadway of Massachusetts. Two other western members of the House, not on the committee, Congressman Charles F. Curry and Congressman J. Arthur Edwards, were also honored guests on the voyage.

The McDowell trip followed a luncheon to the visiting congressmen at the hotel Oakland, which were 125 banquettes including city officials of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda and county officials, as well as the members of the congressional committee, other invited guests and members of the Commercial Club-Chamber of Commerce.

The McDowell started from the foot of Franklin street. The congressmen were shown the upper portion of the tidal canal first, where it was explained to them that the main canal, 500 feet wide and 30 feet deep, branched at this point into the Oakland and Alameda sections. It was pointed out that government appropriation had helped make the main canal, as well as the tidal canal of 200 feet width and 15 feet depth, from which an 18-foot deep tidal canal led.

Turning west the McDowell carried her passengers out into the open bay, past the Western Pacific and Southern Pacific ships and wharves, to the Key Route basin. The boat was run up the 300-foot channel of this basin to the bulkheads. The congressmen were reminded that in four years long what was to be removed by the Southern Pacific Company according to an agreement with the city, leaving a wide mouth through which shipping could enter the basin.

COLONEL REES HELPS.
Possible needs of the local harbor works in the near future were explained to the visiting congressmen, especially with reference to the Key Route basin. Colonel Thomas A. Rees, United States army engineer, who recently submitted a preliminary report on the works in this town, was present on the trip to make clearer to the congressmen various details of the proposition. The visitors explained that this report must first be passed upon by the Board of Engineers before it could become a recognized "project" upon which they could work. The imminence of some such project made the view of the basin works particularly of interest to the visitors and engaged their closest attention during the trip along this section of the front.

The return to the city was made shortly before 5 o'clock, when the congressmen were motored back to the Hotel Oakland. Dinner was served informally there. The congressmen followed their own programs and evening. This morning they left for San Francisco.

A Masterpiece in Hardware

Dazzling with light and vibrant with movement, the Keen Kutter masterpiece-in-hardware at the Panama Exposition is daily the scene of thousands of enthusiastic onlookers.

Rivers, waterfalls, fountains, together with an imposing clock tower, a quintet of chiming blacksmiths and the Great Seal of California, give but a hint of this "moving marvel."

Hardware merchants from everywhere have found here new inspiration and have carried away new ideas of the remarkable display possibilities of hardware. See this exhibit.

SCHOOL FALL TERM STARTS IN ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, July 29.—The Alameda schools opened today for the fall term. They will remain in session for two weeks and will then close for two weeks in order that the teachers may attend the session of the National Educational Association in Oakland.

COUNT PACHE TO DELIVER LECTURE

German War Zone Pictures to Be Shown in Auditorium.

If the inquiries and advance sale of Kahn's reserved and box seats are any indication of a great success, then the same will be accredited to the authentic German War Zone pictures and Count Martin Pache, eminent traveler and lecturer, on the evenings of Saturday, July 31, and August 1, in the Oakland Civic Auditorium, and the sale so far has not been confined to the German-American people, but to people of all nationalities, because everyone seems interested in seeing the actual thrilling pictures of the great war now going on in Europe.

A special arrangement is being made to offer to the students of the Alameda county public schools, as well as to the students of the university, special students' reduced rate. The 50-cent reserved seats will be sold to the students on application for 30 cents, and the 25-cent general admission tickets for 15 cents. Tickets can only be procured at a special ticket office, to be opened in Berkeley, Thursday, and at a special ticket office window at the Auditorium, commencing Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and the pupils and students must name the school where they are registered, or have some proof of their being a student, so that the tickets will be sure and go to the right parties.

The regular box office sale at the Auditorium opens at another window Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and while there is a seating capacity of 8000 people in the arena, it is deemed necessary by the management to put on two shows on each night. The first show will start at 8 o'clock. The best machine operators in the city, together with one of the finest moving picture machines ever seen here, will show on the Auditorium curtains a picture 13x22 feet, together with mechanical effects and music, forming an entertainment lasting over two hours, and which in every other city presented has proved a tremendous success. The doors of the Auditorium will be open at 7 o'clock, and private box seats can be obtained at Kahn's. Over half of the box seats have already been taken.

FOUR BADLY INJURED IN MINE CAGE FALL

GRASS VALLEY, July 29.—Thirteen miners were thrown out of a fast descending cage at the Empire mine yesterday morning when the trucks jumped the track. Seventeen miners were aboard but four remained with the cage when it was finally brought to a halt at the 1200 foot level.

Rope clips caught on a timber in the center of the track. Four of the miners were seriously injured. They are: Edward Cook, S. Cady, Robert Lyons and George Miller. Lyons fell on the sharp end of a candlestick.

First Prize for Alameda Girls Eisteddfod Judges Make Award

Alameda county singers—the youngest of them—yesterday sang themselves into fame and a first prize in the musical competition being held under the direction of the Welsh Eisteddfod in San Francisco. The winners of first place in the vocal recitation of two songs were the members of the chorus of girls chosen for the Eisteddfod Intermediate school of the three sister cities. Not one of them is over 15 years of age.

More glory and another prize—a large one—will be sought by Alameda county singers tonight, when the Alameda county chorus of 150 voices will compete against the Chicago Chorus, an organization which has won the championship of the world for its vocal work. Alexander Stewart will direct the 150 Chorus in its superb recitation of the glow prize this evening.

Miss Zolotta Potter led the school girls in their recitations, which were pronounced by the judges as having been the best exhibition of the kind ever staged at the Eisteddfod festival. The Columbia Park boys were awarded a second prize of $100. The first prize was awarded to the winning chorus, which well did both of the youthful aggregations.

BIG PRIZE FOR ORPHEUS CLUB.
The big prize of the contest yesterday was captured by the Orpheus Club of Los Angeles, which competed with the McNeill Club of Sacramento. The latter organization secured the second prize of $500, the first prize, which went to the Los Angeles organization, being $1000.

Another big prize was won by the singing of a soprano solo by Miss Mary Anderson. These entrants competed for the $50 for the best soprano solo. It was won by Miss Golcher, choir soloist of the First Presbyterian Church of San Francisco. She sang Michael Costa's "I Will Extol Thee."

Rev. D. D. Williams of the University of Liverpool, England, was the winner of the Welsh essay event on "The Characteristics of the Welsh Nation." Rev. Jonathan Edwards read a poetical address by William James, a national leader of the Welsh.

The ceremony of crowning the winning bard of the Eisteddfod had to be omitted yesterday, as the winner, R. C. W. Williams, lives in Wales and was unavoidably absent. His home is in Liverpool.

TRIBUTE TO SINGER.
Mrs. Lowell Redfield, of Oakland, came in for praise because of her work at the piano, in accompanying the soloists. One of the most pleasant features of last night's program was the singing of the soprano solo by Miss Mary Anderson. These entrants competed for the $50 for the best soprano solo. It was won by Miss Golcher, choir soloist of the First Presbyterian Church of San Francisco. She sang Michael Costa's "I Will Extol Thee."

GROVE ST. SUIT MAY BE SETTLED

Railroad Officials Offer to Spend $28,000 for Paving Adeline Street.

BERKELEY, July 29.—A close to the litigation between Berkeley and the Oakland Traction Company over the paving of Grove and Adeline streets, is expected to follow the first conference of the railroad officials with the Berkeley administration. Peter S. Duggan, George Weeks and W. J. Brubaker of the Traction Company last night met with Mayor Irving and Commissioner Fred T. Robinson. They offered to spend $28,000 on the paving of Adeline street and also to improve Berkeley way from College avenue to Telegraph avenue.

Mayor Irving is confident that while final settlement of all of the contested points has not been made, much will come from this and other conferences and that a peaceful settlement will take place of a legal one.

"It is probable," he said, "that the Key Route company and the city will get together to improve the streets. They expect some money and are trying to pave the Berkeley streets at the earliest possible moment. While the results of the conference are not definite as we would wish, we are anxious to hasten to come to a comprehensive program. Berkeley will get the desired paving, or at least a good portion of it within a short time."

At a conference was George D. Clarke, attorney for the city in the case now pending in the appellate court. The Grove street paving has been tied up by litigation for some time and no prospects had been held out for settlement.

FRANCISCAN ORDER TO HONOR PASTOR
Father Maximilian of Fruitvale Expected to Receive Office of Superior.

FRUITVALE, July 29.—Rev. Father Maximilian of St. Elizabeth's church, will probably be one of the superiors of the new coast division of the Province of the Sacred Heart, Francisco. The western division of the Province of the Sacred Heart which will be divided into two sections, each with its own superior, extends from the Pacific coast to the Mississippi and has 750 members.

The newly created coast division there will be about 150 members of the order. The return of Father Maximilian from the St. Louis chapter today is another step toward the reorganization of the order. He will have with him full details of the Franciscan constitution and of the superiors appointed to the coast division. In the Franciscan order there are 15,000 members.

BERKELEY Y. M. C. A. TO HAVE NEW GYM DIRECTOR
BERKELEY, July 29.—Under a new physical director, H. G. Haese, the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. will open its regular work on August 2. The gymnasium and handball courts have been completely renovated and the various department heads have arranged complete programs. Haese is a graduate of the Y. M. C. A. training school at Springfield, Mass., and for the past year has been at the Pacific coast, where he has resigned this post to take on as supervisor of physical education in the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. He has planned an official demonstration of the work of the association for September 7.

On Friday evening, Mrs. Lawrence Gledhill, an Oakland resident, will lecture on "The Dumb Animal World." With the aid of many rare and beautiful slides, she will illustrate the intelligence, sagacity, and emotions of the lower animals. The public is to be invited to attend.

"BILLY" SUNDAY WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW
SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Billy Sunday and family will be among the passengers on the steamer Natchez, which is due to arrive in port from the north at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. He will be met at Pier 9 by a delegation of San Francisco businessmen and other friends. Sunday will deliver a series of five sermons at the Tabernacle, Van Ness avenue, and Bush street, next Sunday, preaching afternoon and evening.

On Monday he will hold an open-air meeting in the Court of the University at the exposition. The exercises, which will be under the auspices of the American Bible Society, will commence at 2:30 p. m.

Abrahamson's Take More Window Space
"Owing to the immense stocks of New Fall Merchandise arriving daily, the firm of Abrahamson Bros. find that they are in need of more window space. To meet the demand, they have taken over the building at 1000 Broadway, which is now being fitted up with interesting merchandise for the women shoppers of Alameda county."

EVERYTHING FOR THE MAN WHO SHAVES.
This is for men only. If you'll furnish the face, the whiskers and the hot water, we will furnish everything else necessary for shaving.

We sell razors, both old fashioned and safety, of every description. Also stroppers for both kinds of razors, extra blades, soaps of all descriptions, cups, shaving brushes, mirrors, face towels, etc.

Most of the above are sold at cut prices, enabling you to make a very substantial saving.

This is one of the most important departments of our business.

THE KIND OF POWDER THAT AMERICA USES
No one but a druggist realizes the number of different talcum powders upon the market. Including American and imported brands there are at least one hundred fairly well known varieties of which we carry a major—

This is the case with Virgo Violet Talcum and Precoda Face Powder. The former is an American talcum made for our special trade and the face powder is imported from France.

Virgo Violet Talcum sells for 25c. Precoda Face Powder sells for 50c.

GET YOUR SNAP SHOTS ENLARGED NOW.
Now is the time to get your vacation snapshots enlarged! If you wish to do so you can pick out one or more figures in a group or any portion of any snapshot and have it enlarged individually.

Our work in this line is the finest that skilled experts can produce, for we spare no time, effort or expense in giving you the best work possible.

We give the same careful attention to each enlargement that a professional would give to his choicest personal pictures and as a result turn out some wonderful examples of perfect work.

No gift could be more appropriate as an appreciation of a delightful trip, than an enlargement of one or more of your kodak pictures sent to the host or hostess upon your return.

TO PRESERVE KODAK PRINTS
Have you prints of all the interesting Kodak pictures you've ever taken? If you've been keeping them in albums you probably have a full collection, but if you've been keeping them scattered around in bureau drawers, desks, etc., you have, most likely, lost a majority of them. Kodak pictures become more valuable the older they get and the only way to preserve them is to buy albums. Prices 25c up.

COURTNEY SHOWS GAMENESS IN HIS BATTLE FOR LIFE

Cornell's "Old Man" Disproving Charge He Lacked Sand in Old Days.

ITHACA, N. Y., July 29. — The fight which Charles E. Courtney is making for his life in the city hospital here is disproving the tradition that the "Old Man" is lacking in sand, as has been so often Courtney was alleged to have avenged the death of Ned Hanlan, then in the heyday of his glory, and the story that he got his start in boat in two on the eve of the race struck a chord in many hearts. The story has been the cause of much sorrow to the "Old Man," but his present sickness must be taken by those who have the power to believe it as the work of fate.

Courtney on June 12 suffered a fracture of the base of the skull, and not a soul knew about it, not even his own mother. He was taken to the hospital after the varsity race in the Poulticeke regatta had been rowed and won by the Cornell crew. Then it was that Courtney was taken to the hospital, and he lay there for 15 days before intense pain without a word.

Those who were with Courtney in the Cornell training quarters at Poughkeepsie say that he was a very good soldier. Courtney was a little over 5 feet tall, but his eyes were clear, his speech firm and his whole bearing seemed to indicate that he was in the best of health. All this was pose, done to deceive his "boys" and to keep them from guessing that he was suffering from a big race. "Better to sacrifice myself than the boys' seems to have been Courtney's theory. The last reports from Ithaca indicated that the "Old Man" is slowly recovering, but Courtney's death has not been confirmed. He was again in command of a Cornell crew, something that has been a part of Courtney's life for 35 of his 55 years.

WHO'S THE GREATEST? JOHNSTON OR WOLTER?

Six Outfielders Qualify for Expert Consideration

(By BILLY FITZ.)

Who's the greatest outfielder in the Coast League? Oakland fans, in one great chorus, will reply: "Jimmy Johnston!" San Francisco fans will offer both Ping Bodie and Justin Fitzgerald. Los Angeles bugs rave over Harry Wolter, Earl Maggart and Rubie Ellis. Vernon, Salt Lake and Portland can hardly qualify any candidates. Elmer Zacher used to be reckoned the greatest judge of fly balls in the country, but he is now rather a fallen idol, and the same may be said of Buddy Ryan. Neither Lober, Hillyard or Speas can compare with the men put forward by Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Joe Whitout of Vernon is still awkward and green, while Lucky Bayless seems to be in a slump.

PICKED FROM SIX.

We think everyone agrees that the greatest outfielder in the Coast League can be picked from Johnston, Fitzgerald, Bodie, Wolter, Maggart and Ellis. But Schaller's disposition to loaf and waltz around the outfield is a serious drawback to his selection. Of the six men who have been selected as representing the class of the league's outfielders, we would be inclined to eliminate Justin Fitzgerald, because of his notoriously weak arm. Fitzgerald is a fine little ball player, but on a large field it is impossible for him to throw a man out at the plate, nor to keep a fast runner from going from first to third on a clean single to his territory. This is a defect not noticeable in the minor leagues.

Rube Ellis might figure on the form he showed last year when he batted in runs and hit home runs. But he has not played up to form this year, especially with the bat. Harry Maggart is to our mind a very good player, his temper and disposition being the only things that mar his value and render him, in a sense, undesirable. He is a great base runner, a wonderful fielder, and a dangerous man at bat, but he does not seem to have the stuff to play individual ball. Fans would drop dead if they saw "Maggart" pulling for a corner, and cheering his partner on to do it. They are not at all sure of his temper, though admittedly a great player.

NARROWED TO THREE.

The choice, to our mind, rests between Jimmy Johnston, Harry Maggart and Ping Bodie, and we believe we have named them in the order in which they should be placed. Bodie is a fine player, but his temper cannot be overlooked. It is his greatest fault, but nevertheless he is a good fielder, a fast runner, and a powerful hitter. He has been a mainstay of the Los Angeles team, and has shown a tremendous lot of territory. Bodie's self-confidence, which many have decided is due to his own ability, is a fault to his teammates. You can't dampen his confidence or make him believe he is a great player, and he tries his best to time. Bodie is possessed of a great arm, too, and is fairly fast on the bases, as the records will show.

THE CASE OF WOLTER.

As for Harry Wolter, southern fans will probably want to elect him to the seat of honor. Wolter is a fine player, in all-around work that Harry excels. Wolter could even step into the pitching box and work a game in good style. He started in as a pitcher and was a mighty good one, too. Wolter is the best batter of the outfielders we have mentioned, and is a wonderful man on the paths. He is an intelligent ball player, a fine fellow personally, and a great assistance to his club.

We have purposely left the case of Jimmy Johnston to the last, for we think it is the greatest of the greatest. Johnston is entitled to the honor of being termed the greatest outfielder in the minors today. The records will prove it, and fans who know him know also that Johnston's real value to the team is not shown in the records.

Johnston has the temperament of a ball player. He is cool, quick witted, aggressive, never loses his temper, is possessed of unbounded enthusiasm and love of the game, and has the faculty of affecting beneficially every man on his team. Johnston is the antithesis of the individual ball player. Though he manages to keep in the limelight continually, as a real baseball star and idol, he does it in such a way that no one has ever accused him of conceit, or playing to the grandstand. Johnston is a man who can smash out a triple, pull up safe after a wonderful slide, and then immediately turn his attention to the next play, and encourage him to hit it out. Most players would be concerned entirely with their own safety, but Johnston finds time to will for his team no matter what situation he is in. Johnston holds a world's record for stolen bases, 124 in one season, and he leads the league this year so far there being no contest. Jimmy threatens to make up a new record for runs scored in the league and this with a second division club.

CONSIDER THE FIGURES.

Johnston is hitting over .300 mark, fielding sensationally and leading the league in stolen bases and runs scored. What more could a fan want?

Here are the figures showing the work of Johnston, Bodie and Wolter.

Player	Team	Games	Runs	Hits	Home Runs	Stolen Bases	Fielding %
Johnston	Oakland	100	100	100	10	124	.950
Bodie	Los Angeles	100	100	100	10	100	.940
Wolter	San Francisco	100	100	100	10	100	.930

Johnston covers not only his own territory, but the territory of the other outfielders, too. He is a man who can be depended upon to do his job, and to do it well. He is a man who can be depended upon to do his job, and to do it well. He is a man who can be depended upon to do his job, and to do it well.

Tom Andrews May Form Boxing Trust

CHICAGO, July 29.—Arrangements have been completed for a meeting at Cleveland August 21 and 22 for the formation of an association to control boxing over all the world. It was announced today. The initiative in the movement has been taken by Tom Andrews of Milwaukee, who believes most of the prominent promoters of the country will attend this season and formulate iron clad rules under which the sport can be conducted.

Andrews has issued a circular in which he says he has had reports from nearly all the big clubs of the country and that every one has promised to send a representative. He has been in communication with clubs in Europe and Australia and says they have written that they are heartily in favor of the organization and will do all in their power to co-operate with an American branch.

Seal Captain's Stick Is Undoing of Oaks

Smash Breaks Oak Defense and Decides 9-2 Game for Seals

By BILLY FITZ.

Captain Roy Corhan, who got four out of four in Tuesday's onslaught, came to bat in the fourth round yesterday with the batsman's stick and drove in three runs with a two base blow that dropped a foot inside the left foul line, and shot towards the bleacher fence, and out of the outfielder's reach. It was a peach of a smash, and it just about broke down the Oakland defense, shattered Bill Burns' confidence, and decided the contest in favor of San Francisco. The final score was 9 to 2, almost as bad as the 11-4 battle of the day before, which fell to us.

This afternoon the two clubs meet in a double-header on the local grounds, and it will probably be productive of some good baseball.

Skeeter Fanning hurled for the Seals and was never in trouble after Corhan had stalked him. Bill Burns was no great mystery and Manager Elliott finally derided him in favor of Souphavong. On the other hand, Bill Burns was hanging around the club headquarters for a while in his direction, and yesterday he beckoned. So Russell hid himself to the hill, and his best in the eighth inning.

Jerry Downs greeted him with a savage shout to center, and Jones was hit with a pitched ball. Melson hit to Russell.

who threw wild past first, and both Downs and Jones scored. A sacrifice and squeeze play put Melson across for the third run. A double play prevented any Seal runs in the ninth.

In the second inning, Reed walked, stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored when Guest's grounder filtered through Jerry Downs. The second Oak run came in fifth when Marcan walked, and came all the way home on Johnston's double to the fence.

The weakness of the Oak infield was never more apparent, for Milton Reed made several costly misplays and seems to find it impossible to play up to requirements. There is some talk of playing either Red Kuhn or Dutch Klawitter at first, and putting Art Quast back on short. Sure, the combination would be as good as the one now being used.

Guest, however, has demonstrated once again his great value as a utility man. He is playing a really fine game at first base. In fact, Guest has made good in every job the Oakland club has given him. The spell at first should give his sore arm a nice rest, but his absence at short is raising the decice.

Smash Breaks Oak Defense and Decides 9-2 Game for Seals

By BILLY FITZ.

Captain Roy Corhan, who got four out of four in Tuesday's onslaught, came to bat in the fourth round yesterday with the batsman's stick and drove in three runs with a two base blow that dropped a foot inside the left foul line, and shot towards the bleacher fence, and out of the outfielder's reach. It was a peach of a smash, and it just about broke down the Oakland defense, shattered Bill Burns' confidence, and decided the contest in favor of San Francisco. The final score was 9 to 2, almost as bad as the 11-4 battle of the day before, which fell to us.

This afternoon the two clubs meet in a double-header on the local grounds, and it will probably be productive of some good baseball.

Skeeter Fanning hurled for the Seals and was never in trouble after Corhan had stalked him. Bill Burns was no great mystery and Manager Elliott finally derided him in favor of Souphavong. On the other hand, Bill Burns was hanging around the club headquarters for a while in his direction, and yesterday he beckoned. So Russell hid himself to the hill, and his best in the eighth inning.

Jerry Downs greeted him with a savage shout to center, and Jones was hit with a pitched ball. Melson hit to Russell.

who threw wild past first, and both Downs and Jones scored. A sacrifice and squeeze play put Melson across for the third run. A double play prevented any Seal runs in the ninth.

In the second inning, Reed walked, stole second, took third on a passed ball and scored when Guest's grounder filtered through Jerry Downs. The second Oak run came in fifth when Marcan walked, and came all the way home on Johnston's double to the fence.

The weakness of the Oak infield was never more apparent, for Milton Reed made several costly misplays and seems to find it impossible to play up to requirements. There is some talk of playing either Red Kuhn or Dutch Klawitter at first, and putting Art Quast back on short. Sure, the combination would be as good as the one now being used.

Guest, however, has demonstrated once again his great value as a utility man. He is playing a really fine game at first base. In fact, Guest has made good in every job the Oakland club has given him. The spell at first should give his sore arm a nice rest, but his absence at short is raising the decice.

SECRECY IN BULL MOOSE GATHERING

Roosevelt Refuses to Discuss Johnson's Presidential Possibility.

By Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 28 (AP) —
The Progressive Party is holding a national convention here today with leaders of the Progressive party of 34 other states, many of them representatives. Later today what might be the last meeting was scheduled.
It seemed that the world for this was the end.

We had a meeting of Progressives tonight. The said "if all who attended have been bound to agree. There is nothing to make a point at the time.

Asked what he thought of Governor
Hiram Johnson of California as a possible

Before the meeting the former president dined with Francis J. Townsend, candidate for United States Senator on the Progressive ticket in California last year.

SQUEAKING KIDNEYS

SQUEAKING KIDNEYS

Do not hesitate to promptly feed the ailing your kidneys give you when they begin to un their work. Men you feel those little "aqueous" pains in the "small of the back" loss of appetite, highly colored urine; weakness you cannot account for—these means that the kidneys are not doing their work properly. The result may be fatal if neglected.

The remedy is a simple matter if you act promptly. Go to your druggist and ask for a bottle of the famous GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Haarlem Oil has been a standard remedy for all kidney and bladder troubles since 1836. It is imported direct from the ancient laborator, and is the only medicine that cures the genuine GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. No substitute will give the proper result. Prices, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Your money positively refunded if you do not get a "good" result. Soothe your old-time "stinger" of youth. Guaranteed and sold by the Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

The disappearance of the furniture, hardware, hardwood casings and floorings, drawers, leaded window casings, tiling and other building materials from a score of houses under way in East Oakland has been investigated by the police for some time, and it was only today, after the arrest of W. L. Newby, 1451 Seventy-ninth avenue, that they concluded they had solved the problem. In the basement of Newby's home they declare, they found stacks of electric fixtures, and several drawers which they succeeded in fitting in their proper places in the houses in several of the ransacked houses.

Newby was a contractor, builder, and also an attorney. He had been occupied recently in building cottages. The possible disappearance of fixtures and materials from the houses under way in construction, found their way into the buildings which Newby was putting up. According to Captain of Inspectors W. J. Petersen, he has a half dozen cases of petty larceny pending against Newby. The arrest was made by Inspector H. E. Green

SPENDING THE PEOPLE'S MONEY WHAT DO THEY GET IN RETURN?

The Taxpayers Should Take Stock of Their Community Possessions and Determine Intelligently Whether There Is Anything They May Dispense With

This is the beginning of a series of articles telling what city officials have done with $30,000,000 during the last ten years.

NUMBER ONE
By FREDERICK FAULKNER.

The city official usually will tell you all about receipts and expenditures, these being the subjects over which he works and worries day in and day out. He describes his work in terms of "cost." His accounting to the people is expressed in dollars and cents. The city official is not alone responsible for this. The people demand it. They scrutinize his estimate of the cost of any public work, authorize the performance thereof, and then get a report of the stewardship in the same kind—amount expended. Circumstances put the taxpayer and property-holder in that frame of mind that he pays more attention, for example, to the cost per front foot of street construction than he gives to the real value of the street and the utilitarian returns for his money.

PRICES, NOT VALUES.
For these reasons the city official is rarely armed with ready information to describe to the visitor or the casual inquirer just what a city possesses in the way of public community property and the condition that property is in. His official life is from budget to budget, estimate to estimate. He expends a lot of time and energy in figuring how much he can get from the city "fatness" for the operations of his department and how far he can go on the allowance made him. On June 30 he closed the door finally against the past and on July 1 turns toward the future twelve months. His annual report shows the cost of what he did; his annual estimate tells the cost of what he would like to do. But little else.

CIVILISM AND FIGURES.
Upon first glance at the formidable array of departmental statistics for this city one would think that Oakland recently was struck with a tidal wave of exuberance; that there had been an unnecessary and unwise measure of municipal improvement aspired to and in great part carried out. Some such idea impressed me at first and I concerned myself early with an effort to discover what new things might have been dispensed with and which of these the people might now be willing to give up.

In the first place Oakland has spent during the last eleven years $30,430,000 in round numbers. Had the rate of expenditure that existed in 1904 prevailed up to the present date the eleven years' disbursements would have been a little more than $3,000,000. The annual expenditures increased from $800,000 in 1905 to $2,550,000 in 1915. In one of the intervening years (1914) they amounted to more than $5,000,000. Bonds were issued to the amount of $3,500,000 in the eleven years closed June 30 last, which means that the city went this amount over its normal and ordinary income in spending money.

FIGURES NOT FACTS.
These outstanding features are what the reports of office-holders show. They are misleading. To learn what actual material progress the city has made during the same period one must turn away from the annual reports.

Elsewhere I gathered facts that, when assembled on the other side of the people's ledger, show:
That during the last eleven years Oakland has grown from a city of 65,000 to one of 119,523.
That it has grown from a city of sixteen and one-half square miles to sixty square miles; with 531 miles of streets—213 more miles of streets than in 1905.
That it has acquired and developed 154 acres of new parks for the benefit of its new area and its new population.

That the increased population and territory has required that thirty-nine new schools be established, entailing the construction of twenty-two modern school buildings, several smaller and less expensive buildings and additions to old school buildings and the acquisition of thirty-eight school sites or additions to old sites.

OTHER URBAN SIGNS.
The establishment and supervision of playgrounds from July 1, 1914, to June 30, 1915, had an attendance of 1,420,852 children and young folk. That the greatly increased administrative duties required, under all the rules of economy and efficiency, the construction of office room for the city officials.
That the people thought they needed and demanded an auditorium, which they got.

That the increases and extensions required big additions to the fire and police departments.

That other notable improvements, some of them costly, appeared expedient to inaugurate.
Have all these new things been necessary and are they worth while? Two causes underlie Oakland's expansion. The first was an artificial cause. The San Francisco disaster of 1906 sent thousands of new residents here, creating the belief that a period of extraordinary development was therefore to be launched. The high hopes entertained by some were not fulfilled. The fire refugees did not build up a new Oakland. The effect of their coming soon disappeared and the city was little better off as a whole than it was prior to 1906. But the vision of a Greater Oakland was created, which would not die, and which prepared the people to meet the second forward movement which started soon afterward.

ENVIRONMENT NEXT.
The second cause was a genuine, natural increase in the development of the whole Pacific Coast and Northern California in particular. A million more people are in California today than there were in 1905. The population of the bay district increased in every section. Oakland was not the only place that offered desirable homes. Competition for the newcomers was keen and Oakland could not afford to be beaten in the race of progress.

She had to provide the advantages of a modern city; had to offer as much as the other cities, her neighbors, offered. As a matter of fact she has provided more than her competitors and so has made greater advancement. Further, having been forced to be the leader in the section of the metropolitan district on the mainland side of the bay, she has given reflected advantages to the communities adjoining her.

Oakland as a whole made more substantial progress in the last ten years than any other city of the same class in the United States. Her population increased by 140,000. Nearly $75,000,000 was spent on private construction work. These and many related advances in the city's life are the fruits of the city's planning and public building. Without such public preparation they would not have come to us.

VANGUARD OF REFORM.
A spirit of municipal reform grew up and a new form of municipal government was introduced by the adoption of the charter of 1911. Oakland was only four years behind Galveston, Texas, the first city in America to adopt charter government. By far the greater part of new city building has been performed since 1910. The people are now showing a disposition to pause and take stock of their situation and the solid results of the "receipts and expenditures" business.

Perhaps it is time they did so. They have many tangible possessions, necessary to their civic life and for which they paid a goodly sum. In subsequent articles I shall endeavor to describe the extent and condition of these possessions as they exist today.

Cupid Guides Girl Here From France

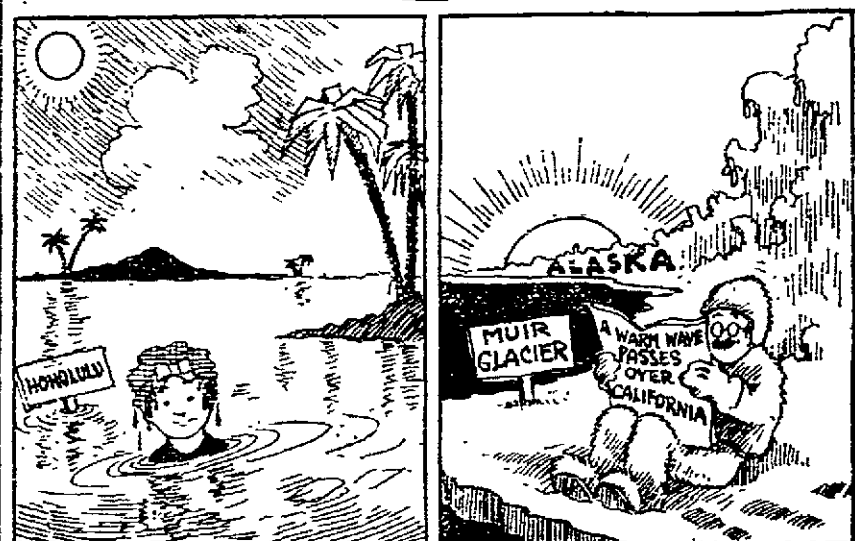

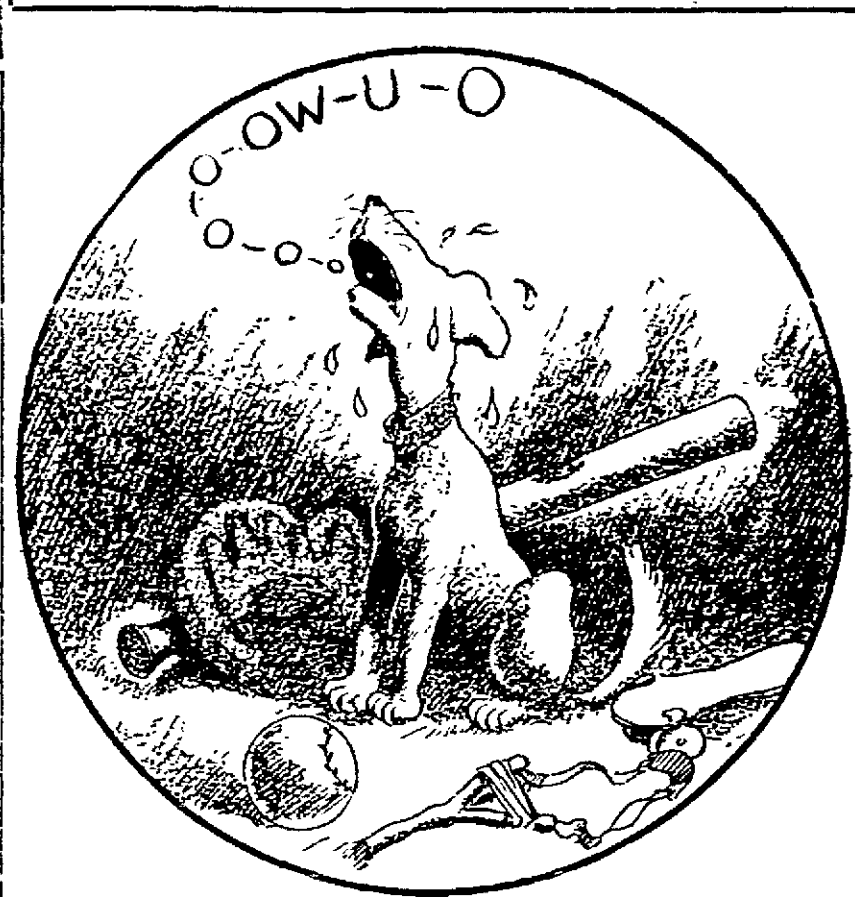

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., July 29.—A romance which started 5 years ago in sunny France was culminated at the Sacred Heart Church here, when Miss Maria Clara Gress of Paris and Auguste Leon Andrieu were united in marriage by Rev. William McMillan. When Miss Gress arrived in this city some difficulty was encountered to supply her wants and direct her, as she cannot speak English. Through an interpreter, it was found that she had come to meet and marry Auguste Andrieu, who resides on a farm near Merrill. Andrieu was at once notified and came immediately to this city.

HEARS APPLICATION TO TRANSFER RAILROAD

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Railroad Commissioner Gordon this morning began a hearing in connection with the application of the Nevada-California-Oregon railway and the Sierra Valley railway to transfer certain property. The case was brought to the attention of the commission by reason of a quitclaim deed given by Mrs. Cora Healy, wife of an engineer who was killed on the Sierra Valley railway, and who obtained a judgment against the property for $3000. An engine overturned, killing Healy, and his wife brought suit. When she was awarded judgment she was unable to collect the same. The court then granted her a writ of attachment, turned over the property to her and she practically became owner of the railroad. At this juncture the corporation decided to pay in and in return for $3000, asserting that she was a quitclaim deed. The Sierra Valley railway and the Nevada-California-Oregon railway, which has taken over the former corporation, now asks the Railroad Commissioner's approval of the transaction. The situation, however, is complicated by the fact that Mrs. Healy has strangely disappeared.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS—ETC.
NEWS ITEM:—MANY TEACHERS HAVE GONE BEYOND THE REACH OF COMMUNICATION FOR THEIR VACATIONS AND CANNOT BE NOTIFIED OF THE EMERGENCY SCHOOL TERM!

Board of Education Rudely Ends the Summer Vacation

"One teacher falls from horses in a parabolic way far off in Arizona, where there is no school today; Another in Alaska looks most enviously at The festive snowy Polar bear, unoccupied and fat! And all are losing salary, but none of 'em know that!"
—Lay of the blissfully-ignorant teachers.

Oakland's schools opened at 9 o'clock this morning. After off in Alaska Oakland school teachers are exulting in the cool snows and laughing at the sweltering city where they earn their daily bread. Others are swimming at the beach at Waikiki, on the beautiful Hawaiian shores or listening to the ukuleles tinkle under the shadow of Diamond Head—none dream that school started today, and that they're losing a day's pay for every day they enjoy what they think is vacation. It's all because the board of education started school early. The old board set the vacation period until late next month, and the teachers, of course, scattered. Then came the new board. They discovered that if the teachers had a few days' work in July they could get their salary for that month. This was decided on. But alas! All the teachers could not be reached. Several had gone to Alaska. A number were summering in Arizona. There were others in Honolulu and in the East. Last night at the board of education session some 20 substitutes were shifted to various positions for temporary instruction periods in today's opening. And the board has ruled that teachers lose pay for every day of absence. Whether it will apply in this case, where teachers were not notified of the vacation change, is not yet determined. Most of them know it by this time and are returning, their vacations rudely interrupted. That 25,000 new students will enroll in the Oakland schools within the next four days is the estimate in the office of the superintendent of schools. Already more than $2,244 have been enrolled in grammar, high and university schools of the county, according to Frank M. Carr of the county department, this showing an increase over last year's county record of 4461. These do not include city schools. The Oakland schools will close again from August 14 to August 25, to permit teachers to attend the N. E. A. conventions. Thirteen new grammar schools have been equipped and opened during the summer, and enrollments were made there today.

NEW YORK WOMEN WORK FOR VOTES

"Telephone Day" Is Held by Active Workers for Equal Rights.

St. Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 29.—This was "telephone day" for the woman suffragists here, and all the active workers in that cause had received instructions to call up at home five voters by telephone and request them to vote for suffrage this fall. Officials of the Woman Suffrage party and of the Equal Franchise society, including Miss Mary Garrett Hay, Mrs. O'Brien Mills and Mrs. Jas. Lee Laidlaw, were assigned to call up various city officials, judges and lawyers. The women had planned to reach all classes of voters. They were encouraged by the receipt of a telegram from Governor Withcomb of Oregon, endorsing woman suffrage and recommending it to the voters of the East.

NEW HOUSE AFIRE.
A great fire was discovered about after 9 o'clock last night in the rear of a new house belonging to H. W. Hall, which has just been completed, at the Mandana park. Patrolmen Saylor and "Tom" early got to the fire with a portable extinguisher before the arrival of the fire department. But little damage was done.

PETTED IDOL STATE-WIDE FOOD SUPPLY

SEEKS NEW CAREER TONG FEUD IN CAPITAL APPALLING

Heroine of Runaway Leaves Benefactress Again to Battle World.

Miss Dorothy Nisbet, a Los Angeles girl, for seventeen years known as Madeleine Bram, foster daughter of Mrs. Ada A. Bram, formerly of Los Angeles, and heroine of a sensational and mysterious runaway from her home in Los Angeles to Oakland a year ago last June, today wrote another chapter into her history when she announced she had left Mrs. Bram's home again.

Miss Nisbet, it is said, was to have been heiress to Mrs. Bram's fortune. But, refusing to remain the petted idol daughter of the household, while she believed she should carve her own fortune, Miss Nisbet decided to go out into the world and earn her own way to fame.

Her departure from the beautiful home of Mrs. Bram in Alhambra followed a bitter quarrel between the girl and her wealthy foster-mother. It is said.

STAYS WITH RELATIVE.
The girl immediately went to the home of her uncle, E. W. Nisbet, 4509 Budlong avenue, Los Angeles.

"While I have very much to be grateful to Mrs. Bram for her raising of me and my education," said Miss Nisbet, "I could not still my ambition to something in the world to earn my way to be a grand opera singer or at least a feature in the concert stage. I always had this ambition. Mrs. Bram would not let me do this."

"Now I am going to work to earn money to pay my own way in the study of voice culture. And I'm going to do it."

"Madeleine," said Mrs. Bram, "left my home because she wanted to go to work—that is all."

GIRL'S LIFE HISTORY.
The girl's life history was sensational from the start. According to her parents, Attorney and Mrs. Henry W. Nisbet of Los Angeles, the girl was placed by them in charge of a nurse when she was only a month old. Soon afterward, Mrs. Bram took the child into her home with the consent of the parents, who were unknown to Mrs. Bram. The girl's name was given at that time—eighteen years ago—as "Dorothy Frawley."

Mrs. Bram raised the child as her own. The child was the pet of the household, educated in private schools and given in charge of music professors in Germany for several years.

A year ago last June Madeleine—a name bestowed by Mrs. Bram—mysteriously disappeared from Mrs. Bram's home on West Thirty-sixth street, this city. Her disappearance remained a mystery for nearly a week, when she was traced to Oakland, where the girl had sought shelter in a home for girls and was given in charge of a well known San Francisco society woman.

REFUSED TO RETURN.
The girl refused to return to Mrs. Bram at that time. Search for her parents began and some months later, Nisbet, the girl's father, laid bare the truth of the girl's parentage and solved its mystery.

The girl went to the home of the parents she had never before known. But a few months later she abruptly left the Nisbets and returned to Mrs. Bram's home.

Mrs. Bram meantime had removed to Alhambra. The girl was received with open arms by the wealthy widow. Music lessons were resumed and the girl took her wonted place in the Bram household.

Lately, however, the girl wished to shine in the screen world and fretted over being a pet of the household. This ambition led to friction, it is said, and then quarrels between the girl and her foster-mother. Last Saturday the girl closed Mrs. Bram's door behind her and faced the world, alone.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—J. A. Caskey, a blacksmith of 1426 Twenty-seventh avenue, in a moment of despondency turned on the gas this morning. He was found soon after and removed to the Central Emergency Hospital. He will recover.

Los Angeles Lawyer's Scheme for Graft Prevents Outbreak.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 28.—Chinatown will not have it that way by a spectacular raid on the lottery dens last night it was scupperd and today instead of the huddled old colony about the railroad tracks being a hunting ground for hatchetmen and husband-brought here from the North for the full purposes of the feud, it is to be a place without lottery for the first time in its existence.

Politics and a scheming lawyer, framing graft that was to bring him $500 a month by a schedule he arranged, disrupted the peace of Chinatown more than a month ago, and brought into hostilities the two strongest of the tong, the Hop Sing and the Sing Kong. The former controlled all the lottery dens outside the precincts of Chinatown proper, the latter all those within Chinatown.

Shortly after the appearance of the lawyer in Chinatown, the announcement of the graft schedule, complaints began to arise from incensed property owners whose holdings adjoined those where the lottery drawings outside Chinatown were held. Never before had these owners been so urgent and so excited in their complaints.

American Government Making Effort to Prevent Continuance of Conditions.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—General Carranza cabled his Washington agency today that his forces, after six hours' fighting, had captured Pachucha and routed the Villa flying columns, which was working south to reinforce Zapata forces near Mexico City.

General Carranza's dispatch was the first word behind the veil which has covered military operations about Mexico City for almost two weeks. When General Gonzales and the Carranza army evacuated Mexico City, on July 17, it was announced they were going out to meet a Villa force moving south.

The Carranza authorities claim their victory eliminates Villa forces from Central Mexico. So serious has the food shortage become in Mexico City that the United States will make immediate repatriation to Carranza and Zapata, that provisions be permitted to get through to the starving people in the capital. Stories of alarming conditions have reached the state department under date of July 25.
